

VORTRAG

A supply chain with multiple retailers and non-linear production costs

Prof. Yigal Gershak
(Tel-Aviv University)

Mi, 24.04.2013, 15:30 Uhr, HS 9

BWZ Brünner Straße 72
1210 Wien

Abstract:

The Operations Management literature assumes that production costs are linear in the quantity produced, unlike economic theory. In situations with multiple retailers, the cost non-linearity causes dependence among the retailers. We first analyze a centralized system (without pooling). Then we explore decentralized systems, with a view towards coordination.